Pacific Women Shaping Pacific Development: Fiji

Through a 10-year commitment, Pacific Women Shaping Pacific Development (Pacific Women) connects more than 160 gender equality initiatives funded by the Australian Government and implemented by 153 partners across 14 Pacific Island countries. Providing technical, convening and knowledge sharing support to the portfolio of partners is Pacific Women’s Support Unit, working to improve the long-term impact of gender equality and women’s empowerment projects in the Pacific.

The Australian Government, through Pacific Women, has committed approximately $26 million over 10 years (2012–2022) on initiatives to support women’s empowerment in Fiji.

Achievements

Leadership and Decision Making

- 12 committees working to prevent crime are enabling vendors to drive improved safety in markets (June 2019). Simultaneously, women vendors are being included by Municipal councils’ infrastructure planning to ensure design and construction is gender responsive, such as ensuring more women’s toilets given the majority of vendors are women.
- Fiji Young Women’s Forum’s distribution of 3,000 My Guide to Voting booklets helped diverse women to participate in the 2018 Fijian General Election. More than half of those receiving the booklet lived in rural locations.

Economic Empowerment

- Women now comprise 40 per cent of Nausori Town Council’s market staff through support from UN Women’s Markets for Change (M4C). Previously, market staff were almost exclusively men.
- FWF’s new booklet documents three grantees’ promising practices in women’s economic empowerment. It sets out the common steps that women’s groups can take so that women participants can actualise high-value market opportunities.
- A review of Spa Academy scholarship recipients revealed they feel more confident and valuable, have increased decision-making power in their families and have improved their economic situations through employment in Fiji’s lucrative spa and beauty industry.
- IFC’s business case for employer-supported childcare demonstrates the need for affordable, quality childcare for working parents and outlines a range of possible actions to support working parents. Following the release of the business case, the Government of Fiji has allocated funding for an exploratory committee to establish day-care centres near major hubs of employment.

Ending Violence against Women

- FWCC, the longest serving crisis centre in the region, continues to be supported for its Pacific-led methodology to train male advocates regionally and to lobby successfully for changes in law, policy and increased resourcing by governments.

Pacific Women Shaping Pacific Development: Fiji

- The Pacific Women’s Network Against Violence Against Women, with FWCC as Secretariat, continues to support emerging and expanding crisis centres in Vanuatu, Tonga and Kiribati.

Enhancing Agency

- Support for the Pacific Feminist Forums in 2016 and 2019 mobilised diverse women to share, celebrate and strategise to achieve women’s human rights. More than 100 women participated in inter-generational dialogue at the Forums, convened by the Fiji Women’s Forum and Fiji Young Women’s Forum National Convention and supported by The We Rise Coalition.

- Incubation of the $10.5 million FWF has resulted in the first fund of its kind in the Pacific region, with plans to transition to an independent local entity. FWF supports women’s empowerment and gender equality through women’s groups and networks, including in remote and rural areas.

- Fiji has become a leader in the region for integrating gender mainstreaming into national planning, with advisory support to the Ministry of Economy resulting in gender equality principles being embedded in Fiji’s National Development Plan. This commitment has been affirmed through the training of the first cohort of 26 male public servants to become gender equality advocates.

- IWDA and Fiji Bureau of Statistics surveyed 2,967 Fijians using the Individual Deprivation Measure, showing women were more likely than men to be extremely disadvantaged and to have limited capacity to raise concerns and effect change in their community. Men were twice as likely to be not deprived of Voice, with the gender difference being largest in urban areas.

- UnitingWorld worked with ministers and church leaders around gender equality theology, resulting in churches adopting their first gender equality theology approaches in sermons and practice.

- The Women in Fisheries Network – Fiji national stock take has revealed gender inequalities in the fishery industry and the data is being used to enhance women’s involvement in fisheries and natural resources management policy and decision-making forums.

- Through a new public-private partnership, staff at ANZ and the Bank of South Pacific are receiving on-site sexual and reproductive health and rights services from the Reproductive and Family Health Association of Fiji. In turn, the banks are providing financial training and resources to the Association.
