Gender and Infrastructure

Pacific Women Annual Learning Forum
Philip Martin, Gender Specialist
May 1, 2019
World Bank in Papua New Guinea

Operations by Fiscal Year

Fiscal Year

Projects

Commitments

0 5 10

0 100 200
Urban Youth Employment Project (UYEP & UYEP II)
Rural Service Delivery Project
Second Road Maintenance and Rehabilitation Project
Inclusive Development in Post-Conflict Bougainville Project
Reflections for the Panel

- Methods to address gender equality in various sectors already exist, but must be systematically used.

- Influencing government to fill data gaps on key gender and women's rights indicators, including on the vastly under-reported areas of unpaid care work and VAW

- The challenge to convince decision makers of the importance of mainstreaming gender equality in infrastructure projects as a matter of development effectiveness.

- Consultations with civil society, women’s rights organizations and feminist scholars who have done already extensive research on gender equality.
GENDER AND INFRASTRUCTURE

Pacific Women Annual Learning Forum
Philip Martin, Gender Specialist

pmartin1@worldbank.org